

Osaka University's Vision 2021: Five Pillars of Openness

Co-creation with and for society

Mayumi Ishikawa, PhD.
Professor & Director of Planning
Center for Global Initiatives
Osaka University

Panel on Networks and Collaboration,
APRU Provost's Forum
13 March 2021
Hong Kong University

Osaka University's Model for Industry-University Collaboration

University transformation through a virtuous cycle of knowledge, talent and funds

Phase 3

Industry-
University
Co-Creation

Open Research

Comprehensive industry-university collaboration from the fundamental research stage

Phase 2

Development of the "seed-base"
collaborative research system

First in Japan

66 joint research labs

As of September 1, 2017

Phase 1

Technology consultations
Individual joint research

Partnerships from the Fundamental Research Stage

Pharmaceuticals

May 2016

- For cutting-edge immunology research activities with Chugai Pharmaceutical Co., Ltd.
- Support for administration costs for 10 years (1 billion yen per year totaling 10 billion)

February 2017

- For cutting-edge immunology research activities with Otsuka Pharmaceutical Co., Ltd.
- Support for administration costs for 10 years

Information Technology

June 2017

- In the field of Information Technology with Daikin Industries, Ltd.
- Support to implement co-creation for 10 years (500 million yen per year, totaling 5.6 billion [incl. research equipment costs])

Osaka U. and Daikin Industries - Realizing a 'super smart' society

Innovating our living space

Creating value for society

Focus of the 5th Science and Technology Basic Plan (FY2016-)